Critical Care Nursing: Diagnosis and Management, 3/e is the market-leading text reference that straddles both student and professional needs. It is notable as the first resource to provide a consistently logical body system organisation integrating medical and nursing management. Although this ground breaking approach is now much-copied, continued innovations in presentation and format, paired with an outstanding Instructor's Resource Manual retain Critical Care Nursing's position as the text of choice for students and professionals in a variety of ICU and step-down settings.
