This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text. Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1830 edition. Excerpt: ... APPENDIX, PIECES SPOKEN AT PUBLIC EXAMINATIONS, &c. The following address was delivered at the opening of an annual Examination, held at the New-York (Free now) Public School room, Chatham-street, April 7th, 1818, by one of the pupils,--written by a gentleman of this city, for the occasion :-- Respected Friends, It is a number of years since, by the benevolence of the New-York Society, for promoting the Manumission of slaves, with the assistance of several humane individuals, a school was established in this city, for the purpose of combining the influence of knowledge, with the progress of emancipation, and of qualifying the ignorant descendants of a despised and enslaved race, to become useful members of a free and enlightened community. By the firm support of that Society and its friends, and the aid granted by the State Legislature, the school has increased in numbers and in character; and now invites the candid and indulgent attention of this respectable audience, to its anniversary examination. Slow as our advances have been in the path of knowledge, and humble as our exercises must necessarily appear, we yet fondly hope to show, on this occasion, that we have not despised our privileges; and that a dark complexion, although almost synonymous with bondage, does not betoken a mind incapable of improvement. Those who now honor us with their attendance, are our friends and patrons. Their presence is a pledge that they wish us well, and will animate us to new efforts to secure their favor, by endeavoring to deserve it. Concluding address by a female on the same occasion. Respected Friends And Patrons, Permit another of the African race to address you on this interesting occasion. When I consider the respectable and philanthropic...
